Note: Read the following passage and then choose the correct answer for (1 - 5).

Late one night, Mr Miller was woken up by a terrible noise in the street outside his house. It sounded as if a terrible fight was going on, and as Mr Miller loved nothing better than to watch a fight in the street, he opened his window and looked out. He saw two young men fighting just outside his front door, but when they saw him watching them, they went round the corner of the house and continued to shout at each other and to beat each other there.

Mr Miller did not want to miss anything, so he ran down and opened his front door, but as it was a cold night, he wrapped himself in a blanket before he went out. He walked to the corner of his house and looked round it. The two men were still shouting and struggling. Unaware of the fact that the men were acting, Mr Miller went closer to them, both to see the fight better and to try to find out what the men were fighting about. But as soon as he was within easy reach of the men, they stopped fighting, attacked him, seized his blanket and ran away into the darkness with it.

Mr Miller was too old to run after them, so he could do nothing but go sadly back to bed without his blanket. 'Well,' said his wife. 'What were they fighting about?' 'It seems that they were fighting about my blanket,' answered Mr Miller, 'because as soon as they got it, their quarrel ended.'

Late one night, Mr Miller was woken up by a terrible noise in the street outside his house. It sounded as if a terrible fight was going on, and as Mr Miller loved nothing better than to watch a fight in the street, he opened his window and looked out. He saw two young men fighting just outside his front door, but when they saw him watching them, they went round the corner of the house and continued to shout at each other and to beat each other there.

Mr Miller did not want to miss anything, so he ran down and opened his front door, but as it was a cold night, he wrapped himself in a blanket before he went out. He walked to the corner of his house and looked round it. The two men were still shouting and struggling. Unaware of the fact that the men were acting, Mr Miller went closer to them, both to see the fight better and to try to find out what the men were fighting about. But as soon as he was within easy reach of the men, they stopped fighting, attacked him, seized his blanket and ran away into the darkness with it.

Mr Miller was too old to run after them, so he could do nothing but go sadly back to bed without his blanket. ' Well, ' said his wife. ' What were they fighting about? Note: Read the following passage and then choose the correct answer for (1 - 5).

Late one night, Mr Miller was woken up by a terrible noise in the street outside his house. It sounded as if a terrible fight was going on, and as Mr Miller loved nothing better than to watch a fight in the street, he opened his window and looked out. He saw two young men fighting just outside his front door, but when they saw him watching them, they went round the corner of the house and continued to shout at each other and to beat each other there.

Mr Miller did not want to miss anything, so he ran down and opened his front door, but as it was a cold night, he wrapped himself in a blanket before he went out. He walked to the corner of his house and looked round it. The two men were still shouting and struggling. Unaware of the fact that the men were acting, Mr Miller went closer to them, both to see the fight better and to try to find out what the men were fighting about. But as soon as he was within easy reach of the men, they stopped fighting, attacked him, seized his blanket and ran away into the darkness with it.

Mr Miller was too old to run after them, so he could do nothing but go sadly back to bed without his blanket. ' Well, ' said his wife. ' What were they fighting about? Choose the most suitable answer for all the questions. (2 marks each). SN: 000009

Note: Read the following passage and then choose the correct answer for (1 - 5).

Late one night, Mr Miller was woken up by a terrible noise in the street outside his house. It sounded as if a terrible fight was going on, and as Mr Miller loved nothing better than to watch a fight in the street, he opened his window and looked out. He saw two young men fighting just outside his front door, but when they saw him watching them, they went round the corner of the house and continued to shout at each other and to beat each other there.

Mr Miller did not want to miss anything, so he ran down and opened his front door, but as it was a cold night, he wrapped himself in a blanket before he went out. He walked to the corner of his house and looked round it. The two men were still shouting and struggling. Unaware of the fact that the men were acting, Mr Miller went closer to them, both to see the fight better and to try to find out what the men were fighting about. But as soon as he was within easy reach of the men, they stopped fighting, attacked him, seized his blanket and ran away into the darkness with it.

Mr Miller was too old to run after them, so he could do nothing but go sadly back to bed without his blanket. 'Well,' said his wife. 'What were they fighting about?' 'It seems that they were fighting about my blanket,' answered Mr Miller, 'because as soon as they got it, their quarrel ended.'

Choose the most suitable answer for all the questions. (2 marks each). SN: 000011

Note: Read the following passage and then choose the correct answer for (1 - 5).

Late one night, Mr Miller was woken up by a terrible noise in the street outside his house. It sounded as if a terrible fight was going on, and as Mr Miller loved nothing better than to watch a fight in the street, he opened his window and looked out. He saw two young men fighting just outside his front door, but when they saw him watching them, they went round the corner of the house and continued to shout at each other and to beat each other there.

Mr Miller did not want to miss anything, so he ran down and opened his front door, but as it was a cold night, he wrapped himself in a blanket before he went out. He walked to the corner of his house and looked round it. The two men were still shouting and struggling. Unaware of the fact that the men were acting, Mr Miller went closer to them, both to see the fight better and to try to find out what the men were fighting about. But as soon as he was within easy reach of the men, they stopped fighting, attacked him, seized his blanket and ran away into the darkness with it.

Mr Miller was too old to run after them, so he could do nothing but go sadly back to bed without his blanket. ' Well, ' said his wife. ' What were they fighting about? ' ' It seems that they were fighting about my blanket, ' answered Mr Miller, ' because as soon as they got it, their quarrel ended. '

Choose the most suitable answer for all the questions. (2 marks each). SN: 000013

Note: Read the following passage and then choose the correct answer for (1 - 5).

Late one night, Mr Miller was woken up by a terrible noise in the street outside his house. It sounded as if a terrible fight was going on, and as Mr Miller loved nothing better than to watch a fight in the street, he opened his window and looked out. He saw two young men fighting just outside his front door, but when they saw him watching them, they went round the corner of the house and continued to shout at each other and to beat each other there.

Mr Miller did not want to miss anything, so he ran down and opened his front door, but as it was a cold night, he wrapped himself in a blanket before he went out. He walked to the corner of his house and looked round it. The two men were still shouting and struggling. Unaware of the fact that the men were acting, Mr Miller went closer to them, both to see the fight better and to try to find out what the men were fighting about. But as soon as he was within easy reach of the men, they stopped fighting, attacked him, seized his blanket and ran away into the darkness with it.

Mr Miller was too old to run after them, so he could do nothing but go sadly back to bed without his blanket. ' Well, ' said his wife. ' What were they fighting about? Note: Read the following passage and then choose the correct answer for (1 - 5).

Late one night, Mr Miller was woken up by a terrible noise in the street outside his house. It sounded as if a terrible fight was going on, and as Mr Miller loved nothing better than to watch a fight in the street, he opened his window and looked out. He saw two young men fighting just outside his front door, but when they saw him watching them, they went round the corner of the house and continued to shout at each other and to beat each other there.

Mr Miller did not want to miss anything, so he ran down and opened his front door, but as it was a cold night, he wrapped himself in a blanket before he went out. He walked to the corner of his house and looked round it. The two men were still shouting and struggling. Unaware of the fact that the men were acting, Mr Miller went closer to them, both to see the fight better and to try to find out what the men were fighting about. But as soon as he was within easy reach of the men, they stopped fighting, attacked him, seized his blanket and ran away into the darkness with it.

Mr Miller was too old to run after them, so he could do nothing but go sadly back to bed without his blanket. 'Well,' said his wife. 'What were they fighting about?' 'It seems that they were fighting about my blanket,' answered Mr Miller, 'because as soon as they got it, their quarrel ended.'

Choose the most suitable answer for all the questions. (2 marks each). SN: 000018

Note: Read the following passage and then choose the correct answer for (1 - 5).

Late one night, Mr Miller was woken up by a terrible noise in the street outside his house. It sounded as if a terrible fight was going on, and as Mr Miller loved nothing better than to watch a fight in the street, he opened his window and looked out. He saw two young men fighting just outside his front door, but when they saw him watching them, they went round the corner of the house and continued to shout at each other and to beat each other there.

Mr Miller did not want to miss anything, so he ran down and opened his front door, but as it was a cold night, he wrapped himself in a blanket before he went out. He walked to the corner of his house and looked round it. The two men were still shouting and struggling. Unaware of the fact that the men were acting, Mr Miller went closer to them, both to see the fight better and to try to find out what the men were fighting about. But as soon as he was within easy reach of the men, they stopped fighting, attacked him, seized his blanket and ran away into the darkness with it.

Mr Miller was too old to run after them, so he could do nothing but go sadly back to bed without his blanket. ' Well, ' said his wife. ' What were they fighting about? ' ' It seems that they were fighting about my blanket, ' answered Mr Miller, ' because as soon as they got it, their quarrel ended.'

Note: Read the following passage and then choose the correct answer for (1 - 5).

Late one night, Mr Miller was woken up by a terrible noise in the street outside his house. It sounded as if a terrible fight was going on, and as Mr Miller loved nothing better than to watch a fight in the street, he opened his window and looked out. He saw two young men fighting just outside his front door, but when they saw him watching them, they went round the corner of the house and continued to shout at each other and to beat each other there.

Mr Miller did not want to miss anything, so he ran down and opened his front door, but as it was a cold night, he wrapped himself in a blanket before he went out. He walked to the corner of his house and looked round it. The two men were still shouting and struggling. Unaware of the fact that the men were acting, Mr Miller went closer to them, both to see the fight better and to try to find out what the men were fighting about. But as soon as he was within easy reach of the men, they stopped fighting, attacked him, seized his blanket and ran away into the darkness with it.

Mr Miller was too old to run after them, so he could do nothing but go sadly back to bed without his blanket. 'Well,' said his wife. 'What were they fighting about?' 'It seems that they were fighting about my blanket,' answered Mr Miller, 'because as soon as they got it, their quarrel ended.'

Choose the most suitable answer for all the questions. (2 marks each). SN: 000023

Note: Read the following passage and then choose the correct answer for (1 - 5).

Late one night, Mr Miller was woken up by a terrible noise in the street outside his house. It sounded as if a terrible fight was going on, and as Mr Miller loved nothing better than to watch a fight in the street, he opened his window and looked out. He saw two young men fighting just outside his front door, but when they saw him watching them, they went round the corner of the house and continued to shout at each other and to beat each other there.

Mr Miller did not want to miss anything, so he ran down and opened his front door, but as it was a cold night, he wrapped himself in a blanket before he went out. He walked to the corner of his house and looked round it. The two men were still shouting and struggling. Unaware of the fact that the men were acting, Mr Miller went closer to them, both to see the fight better and to try to find out what the men were fighting about. But as soon as he was within easy reach of the men, they stopped fighting, attacked him, seized his blanket and ran away into the darkness with it.

Mr Miller was too old to run after them, so he could do nothing but go sadly back to bed without his blanket. 'Well,' said his wife. 'What were they fighting about?' 'It seems that they were fighting about my blanket,' answered Mr Miller, 'because as soon as they got it, their quarrel ended.'

Choose the most suitable answer for all the questions. (2 marks each). SN: 000025

Note: Read the following passage and then choose the correct answer for (1 - 5).

Late one night, Mr Miller was woken up by a terrible noise in the street outside his house. It sounded as if a terrible fight was going on, and as Mr Miller loved nothing better than to watch a fight in the street, he opened his window and looked out. He saw two young men fighting just outside his front door, but when they saw him watching them, they went round the corner of the house and continued to shout at each other and to beat each other there.

Mr Miller did not want to miss anything, so he ran down and opened his front door, but as it was a cold night, he wrapped himself in a blanket before he went out. He walked to the corner of his house and looked round it. The two men were still shouting and struggling. Unaware of the fact that the men were acting, Mr Miller went closer to them, both to see the fight better and to try to find out what the men were fighting about. But as soon as he was within easy reach of the men, they stopped fighting, attacked him, seized his blanket and ran away into the darkness with it.

Mr Miller was too old to run after them, so he could do nothing but go sadly back to bed without his blanket. 'Well,' said his wife. 'What were they fighting about?' 'It seems that they were fighting about my blanket,' answered Mr Miller, 'because as soon as they got it, their quarrel ended.'
